

WIL FIGHT FITZ WITHOUT A BET.

Jeffries Says Lanky Bob Doesn't Need $20,000 Backing to Get on Fight with Him.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 16.—Jim Jeffries is pleased at the prospect of a fight with Bob Fitzsimmons, but he says it isn't necessary for Fitz to have $20,000 backing. Here are his terms:

"I'll fight him without a penny on the side. I suggested the side bet proposition, after he had asked me to make it worth his while to fight. Now, Fitz doesn't need a cent. I'll accept any conditions that are reasonable. I will not split the money. Seventy per cent. to the winner and thirty per cent. to the loser is the only up-right way to do business. I would be satisfied with the winner take all basis. I hope Fitz is on the level. I will fight him within a month after I meet Sharkey, though I would prefer to tackle Fitz first. Now a fight should be arranged. Let Fitz name a meeting place and Delaney will do the rest. I'll cut out all my theatrical engagements. Now it's up to Fitz."

JAMES J. JEFFRIES.

MAHER TO WIN OR QUIT GAME.

(Special to The Evening World.)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 16.—Peter Maher, who is scheduled to face Tom Sharkey in this city tomorrow night, is a heavy weight champion of Ireland, has fought active training and is now taking matters easy. This morning he was up early and played a game of handball and was given a good workout. He then took a stroll with Pete Lowery. He afterward jumped on the scales and tipped the beam at 173 pounds. He expects to enter the ring within one pound of this weight.

MAHER TO WIN OR QUIT GAME.

(Special to The Evening World.)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 16.—Peter Maher, who is scheduled to face Tom Sharkey in this city tomorrow night, is a heavy weight champion of Ireland, has fought active training and is now taking matters easy. This morning he was up early and played a game of handball and was given a good workout. He then took a stroll with Pete Lowery. He afterward jumped on the scales and tipped the beam at 173 pounds. He expects to enter the ring within one pound of this weight.

TATTOOED ALL OVER TO GAIN HER LOVE.

BUT BETTY EVA'S PA HAS GALLANT TAR ARRESTED.

Wall, Oh Wicked Wall! Betrays Their Plans for an Elopement.

This is the romance of a sailorman and a tattooer's daughter, a romance that ended in Centre Street Police Court today when the sailor man was sent to the Island for three months.

Eva Getchell, a beautiful girl, is the heroine. She is the sixteen-year-old daughter of Elmer E. Getchell, who has acquired a competence by tattooing sailors at No. 12 Chatham square. Eva was his assistant.

To the tattooing studio of Getchell there came some months ago John E. Ames, the sailorman. He is twenty-one years old, big and brawny, and lived at No. 52 Water street.

John had an extensive count of money attached to his skin. He had a full rigged ship tattooed on his chest, a Goddess of Liberty on his right arm, Venus on his left arm, and a coiled black cat on the back of his right hand.

He bore the pain of Getchell's art etching without a murmur and gained the love of Eva. For her sake, he said, he would have become a walking picture gallery, had it been necessary to get tattooed every time he wanted to see her.

But Eva found a way to meet John outside of the studio. They carried on a clandestine correspondence, using a hole in the hallway of the Getchell home at No. 12 Chatham street, for a post office. A bashful neighbor saw John putting a letter in the post office morning and told Getchell. He read the letter and found that it contained a plan for an elopement to New London, Conn. to live together in a small cottage. Getchell had the sailorman arrested. He was fined $50. All he had was $4.50, so he was sent to the Island. Betty Eva, who was in court, sobbed as John was led away and swore that she would wait until he got out.

$12,500 for Husband's Life.

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 15.—The New Jersey Traction Company has paid to Mrs. Rebecca Jenny the sum of $12,500 for the loss of her husband, who was killed by one of the company's cars. Mrs. Jenny sued for $25,000 damages. The case was settled out of court.

Journalist's Summertime.

Pennsylvania Railroad Tour to Florida. Leave New York Feb. 4 and March 4. Round trip $100. Apply to Tourist Agent, 1195 Broadway, N. Y. C.

He is more than ever confident that he will win and says that prior to the bout he will make a statement declaring his intention of challenging Jeffries and Fitzsimmons should he succeed in putting the sailor to sleep. He says he will win inside of four rounds and will then agree to meet any man in the world, the winner to take all the purse. Should he lose he says he will retire from pugilism.

There has been a big call for tickets to the fight to-morrow night, and it is said that 7,000 persons will witness the mill. A big delegation from New York will have an entire section of seats near the ringside.

Sharkey will arrive early to-morrow accompanied by his backer and trainers. Jeffries will be at the ringside and previous to the principals for the big bout donning the mite, will issue a challenge to fight the winner. Bob Fitzsimmons will also be on hand, as well as "Young Corbett," Terry McDevitt and the big lights in the pugilistic world.

Betting to-day is 10 to 5 in favor of Sharkey. But the Maher supporters are gobbling up all the money in sight.

SHARKEY STOPS HIS TRAINING.

Tom Sharkey hit his punching-bag a few parting wallops this afternoon at his training quarters, Home Crest, Sheephead Bay. With a final punch that caused the ball to almost crash through the platform he remarked, "Now, I'm ready for Maher. If I'm not mistaken, I won't do a thing to him to-morrow night." The latter remark was accompanied by a significant look at his strong right arm.

The ex-sailor in this way finished his several weeks of hard training for his fight with Peter Maher to-morrow night at the Industrial A. C. in Philadelphia. He is in rare shape and to use his own expression is "pound better than when

MIX-UP IN A DIVORCE SUIT.

BROOKLYN BANKER BRINGS A SUIT ALTHOUGH DIVORCED.

Mrs. Rothschild Secured Her Decree Over Three Years Ago at Norfolk, Va.

(Special to The Evening World.)

NORFOLK, Jan. 15.—It developed today that Mrs. Carrie Rothschild, against whom David Rothschild, a wealthy Brooklyn banker, brought suit for divorce in the Court of Law and Chancery here last Saturday, obtained an absolute divorce from Rothschild Oct. 5, 1897, in the same court in which the husband now sues.

A court publication summoning Rothschild to appear and defend his interests was printed in a Norfolk paper at the time, but the husband is supposed not to have seen the publication and the case went by default.

Counsel for Rothschild to-day said they understood the wife claimed to have a divorce.

When asked why a new suit had been brought by the husband, counsel said they did not suppose Rothschild would have gone to the trouble to bring a new suit had he thought he was legally divorced.

Counsel for Mrs. Rothschild, whose name now appears in the city directory as "Miss Carrie Sptner," declared that counsel for the husband was ignorant of the decree of divorce granted to the wife in 1897, when they filed the husband's suit last Saturday.

Rothschild and Miss Sptner were married in Norfolk, Nov. 6, 1885. The couple went to Brooklyn to live and shortly afterward separated.

Rothschild at the time of the marriage was a widower, thirty-seven years old, and Miss Sptner was nineteen years of age.

The wife, upon leaving the Brooklyn house of her husband, returned immediately to Norfolk, and is now residing with her mother.

CLEVELAND TAKES A DRIVE.

Ex-President Fast Improving, Ventures Out of Doors.

PRINCETON, N. J., Jan. 15.—Ex-President Cleveland is fast improving and took his first drive to-day since he was taken ill.

he went the memorable twenty-five rounds with Jeffries at Coney Island."

Goes to Philadelphia To-morrow.

Sharkey will remain at his quarters to-night getting ready for his trip to the Quaker City. He will leave early to-morrow morning for this city, taking the train for Philadelphia about 10 o'clock. The ex-sailor is judiciously confident he'll beat his old rival.

"I have taken particular pains to get in the best possible shape for this fight," said the sailor this afternoon to an Evening World reporter. "I know what Maher is. I know he has the punch, and I know if I don't watch out he'll get it on me. I haven't lost sight of any of these points."

"I have a good defense and, as you may know, a punch of my own. They tell me Maher is in great shape. That makes my job harder, but I like hard work. I never shrink it."

"Some Funny Training."

"I have been doing some funny training down here. I got away from the old-time course of swinging dumbbells, punching a bag and working the wrist machine. I've done something else besides these things this time, and make out I haven't noticed the difference in my condition to-day."

"I've taken exercise outside in the open. I've used the pick and shovel, jumped fences, ran across country and what do you think, did a lot of sweeping with a broom."

Sweeping Back the Tide.

"That's great exercise, this pushing a broom. It brings nearly every muscle into play and strengthens your arms and all that. Of course, I didn't do the kind of sweeping that women do, there weren't any parlor carpets in mine. I just tried to sweep away hills of dirt, and once or twice I've gone down to the beach and tried to sweep back the incoming tide, that was great sport as well as work. You know you can't keep back the waves and each one comes bigger than the last."

Sharkey Is Modest.

"Will I beat Maher? Well, you know how it is yourself. Sure I will. Oh, just let me take that back and put it in this way—I think I will."

"I don't like to count the chickens before they're hatched. Just say I'm very confident. Isn't that what they all say? I might add that I mean it."

he went the memorable twenty-five rounds with Jeffries at Coney Island."

Goes to Philadelphia To-morrow.

Sharkey will remain at his quarters to-night getting ready for his trip to the Quaker City. He will leave early to-morrow morning for this city, taking the train for Philadelphia about 10 o'clock. The ex-sailor is judiciously confident he'll beat his old rival.

"I have taken particular pains to get in the best possible shape for this fight," said the sailor this afternoon to an Evening World reporter. "I know what Maher is. I know he has the punch, and I know if I don't watch out he'll get it on me. I haven't lost sight of any of these points."

"I have a good defense and, as you may know, a punch of my own. They tell me Maher is in great shape. That makes my job harder, but I like hard work. I never shrink it."

"Some Funny Training."

"I have been doing some funny training down here. I got away from the old-time course of swinging dumbbells, punching a bag and working the wrist machine. I've done something else besides these things this time, and make out I haven't noticed the difference in my condition to-day."

"I've taken exercise outside in the open. I've used the pick and shovel, jumped fences, ran across country and what do you think, did a lot of sweeping with a broom."

Sweeping Back the Tide.

"That's great exercise, this pushing a broom. It brings nearly every muscle into play and strengthens your arms and all that. Of course, I didn't do the kind of sweeping that women do, there weren't any parlor carpets in mine. I just tried to sweep away hills of dirt, and once or twice I've gone down to the beach and tried to sweep back the incoming tide, that was great sport as well as work. You know you can't keep back the waves and each one comes bigger than the last."

Sharkey Is Modest.

"Will I beat Maher? Well, you know how it is yourself. Sure I will. Oh, just let me take that back and put it in this way—I think I will."

"I don't like to count the chickens before they're hatched. Just say I'm very confident. Isn't that what they all say? I might add that I mean it."

ODDIE VICTIM OF YACHT RACE.

N. Y. C. SECRETARY DIES IN HIS HOME.

His Name Was Twenty-Ninth on the Club's Membership Roll of 2,000.

J. V. S. Oddie, secretary of the New York Yacht Club, died at his home, No. 2 West Forty-eighth street, at 2 o'clock this afternoon. He had been ill for two weeks, and since last Sunday it was considered that his case was hopeless.

The cause of death was a kidney disease. Mr. Oddie was one of the most prominent yachtsmen in the country. He joined the New York Yacht Club on Oct. 19, 1867, and his name appears upon the membership roll as twenty-ninth in order of seniority in a total membership of about 2,000.

Since 1889 Mr. Oddie had served the New York Yacht Club as its secretary. He conducted all the correspondence preparatory to and through the challenge races, which were held during his administration. Hard work in connection with the last attempt of Sir Thomas Lipton to lift the cup brought on the illness that proved fatal to Mr. Oddie.

CLEVELAND IS OUT.

Ex-President and Mrs. Cleveland Took a Drive To-day—Hunting Trip Next.

PRINCETON, N. J., Jan. 15.—Ex-President Grover Cleveland has sufficiently recovered from his illness to enjoy short drives in the country.

To-day he and Mrs. Cleveland drove through the streets and a short distance out of town.

Mr. Cleveland looked well, and if he continues to gain strength he will go on a Southern hunting trip with his friends next week.

ADM. SUMNER APPOINTED.

He Will Command the South Atlantic Station.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Admiral George W. Sumner, at present commanding the League Island Navy Yard, has been selected by Secretary Long to take command of the South Atlantic station.

VERY LATEST NEWS IN BRIEFEST FORM.

FOUR SIX-DAY TEAMS TIED.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 16.—The six-day bicycle race score at 4.30—the twenty-sixth hour—was as follows:

M. L.	M. L.
M. L.	M. L.
M. L.	M. L.
M. L.	M. L.
M. L.	M. L.

LATE RESULTS AT NEW ORLEANS.

Fifth Race—Eva Rice 1. Cast Iron 2. Garter Ban 3.

BOLD WOULD-BE ROBBER CAUGHT.

An unknown man attempted to grab jewelry from the window of a Sixth avenue store this afternoon, after breaking the glass, but was caught from the inside and held until arrested.

MINING COMPANY'S TREASURER ARRESTED.

Clarence F. Jewett, of No. 235 West One Hundred and Thirtieth street, was arraigned in the Centre Street Police Court this afternoon on the charge of grand larceny, and held in $1,000 bail for examination. Ezra D. Baker, President of the Cherry Hill Gold Mining Company, whose treasurer Jewett was complained that Jewett appropriated $200 of the company's funds for his own use.

CONFERENCE TO BE HELD TO-MORROW.

The conference of Borough Presidents, arranged for this afternoon, has been postponed until to-morrow to let them have time to study the report of the Commissioners of Accounts to the Mayor, made public to-day.

HYSTERICAL WOMAN TOURS IN NIGHTGOWN.

Watchman Daniel Clare at 2 1/2 o'clock this morning saw a tall, white-robed figure gliding toward him down Fulton street, Brooklyn. It was not a ghost, but a very pretty blond young woman, crying, and arrayed only in her robe de nuit and a pair of stockings. An ambulance surgeon from the Brooklyn Hospital said she was suffering from hysteria, and took her away. At 4.30 o'clock an excited Englishman, who said he was Frederick Toque, of No. 254 Fulton street, ran into the station and said he had lost his wife. He went to the hospital and took her home.

JEWELRY VERY MUCH TIED UP.

Orlando A. Jones is in a peek of trouble over a $6,000 loan he made to Adolph Morrell-Sayre some time ago. He took jewelry as collateral which Morrell-Sayre said belonged to his mother. Subsequently Maud H. Kirland sued Morrell-Sayre and levied on his property including the jewels held by Mr. Jones. Mrs. Morrell-Sayre also claimed the jewels. Mr. Jones to-day failed to get an injunction to restrain both women from suing him and for permission to sell the jewels, repay himself and deposit the balance of the money with the court.

ANDERSON SPINSTERS MADE PUBLIC CHARGES.

Amanda Anderson, sixty-seven years old, and her sister, Mary Jane, sixty-five years old, of No. 513 East One Hundred and Seventeenth street, were committed to the care of Supt. Blair of the Outdoor Poor Department this afternoon by Magistrate Mott in the Harlem Court.

The sisters were sent to Bellevue last week for examination into their sanity. They were found to be sane but suffering from senility. The sisters are said to have several rich relatives in the city.

COLD HOUSE FOR INVALID WIFE.

The suit of George E. Lovett & Co., agents for the Ardisley apartment house, Hancock street and Nostrand avenue, Brooklyn, against John Hill, one of the proprietors of the Clarendon Hotel, for $70 arrears of rent, was on trial in the First District Municipal Court of Brooklyn to-day. Mr. Hill swore that he left the place because he began asking for heat in the latter part of August when his wife was convalescent from typhoid fever, and kept it up unavailingly until December, when he moved.

MOLINEUX EXPERT AWARDED $6,639.65.

The jury in the suit of Prof. Rudolph A. Witthaus against the city for $6,180 for his services as a chemical expert in the Henry C. Barnet branch of the Molineux case, brought in a verdict to-day for the full amount claimed, with $459.65 interest, making a total of $6,639.65.

SEPARATE FUNERALS IN SAME FAMILY.

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 15.—Two funerals from the same house, the dead being father and daughter, were held in Harrison to-day. On Sunday Minnie Seeley, daughter of Leonard F. Seeley, died suddenly. On Monday her father also died. He was a Methodist and she a Presbyterian.

ADMITTS STEAM FILLED TUNNEL.

Startling Disclosure by Railroad Official at Coroner's Inquest of Central Wreck.

At the opening session of the Coroner's jury which is investigating the tunnel wreck the startling admission was made to-day by General Manager Franklin, of the Harlem road, that engineers had frequently complained of inability to see signals on foggy days when the tunnel was filled with steam.

Under the close questioning of District Attorney Jerome, who is aiding Coroner Scholer in his work, Mr. Franklin was forced to admit that nothing was done in regard to these complaints except to warn the men that they must move cautiously. He also said there was no regulation of speed except that arranged by the rules. Fast trains run at the rate of thirty miles an hour in the tunnel.

Earlier in the day Officer Fox had testified that when he found Wiskar on his engine after the wreck the engineer said: "The smoke and steam shut off my view."

Mr. Franklin also admitted that Wiskar was a green engineer and that this was his first trip.

The New York Central Railroad, it was learned to-day, intends to move Park avenue to the westward and utilize the present street for a road bed. It has already acquired a strip seventy-five feet wide, extending from Forty-seventh street to Fifty-sixth street.

HIGH RAILROAD OFFICIAL ADMITS THAT STEAM OBSCURED TUNNEL LIGHTS.

Mr. Jerome called Mr. Franklin to the stand this afternoon. He testified that as general manager of the Harlem Road, the only authorities over him were Presidents Newman and Hall, of the Harlem and New Haven Roads.

"Are the tracks used for any certain trains, as the exigencies of the moment demand?"

"As the exigencies of the moment demand."

"Then a train can be sent down track No. 1 or No. 2 at will?"

"Yes, sir."

"Who does this work?"

"All About Signals."

"The towerman at Matt Haven?"

"Has he any discretion?"

"No, he takes orders from the dispatcher."

"Who is the dispatcher?"

"There are three working on eight-hour shifts. Mr. Slater is the chief. There are any other place where trains can be shifted from one track to another."

"Then a train can be sent down track No. 1 or No. 2 at will?"

"Yes, sir."

"Who does this work?"

"All About Signals."

"The towerman at Matt Haven?"

"Has he any discretion?"

"No, he takes orders from the dispatcher."

"Who is the dispatcher?"

"There are three working on eight-hour shifts. Mr. Slater is the chief. There are any other place where trains can be shifted from one track to another."

"Then a train can be sent down track No. 1 or No. 2 at will?"

"Yes, sir."

"Who does this work?"

"All About Signals."

"The towerman at Matt Haven?"

"Has he any discretion?"

"No, he takes orders from the dispatcher."

"Who is the dispatcher?"

"There are three working on eight-hour shifts. Mr. Slater is the chief. There are any other place where trains can be shifted from one track to another."

"Then a train can be sent down track No. 1 or No. 2 at will?"

"Yes, sir."

"Who does this work?"

"All About Signals."

"The towerman at Matt Haven?"

"Has he any discretion?"

"No, he takes orders from the dispatcher."

"Who is the dispatcher?"

"There are three working on eight-hour shifts. Mr. Slater is the chief. There are any other place where trains can be shifted from one track to another."

"Then a train can be sent down track No. 1 or No. 2 at will?"

"Yes, sir."

"Who does this work?"

"All About Signals."

"The towerman at Matt Haven?"

"Has he any discretion?"

"No, he takes orders from the dispatcher."

"Who is the dispatcher?"

"There are three working on eight-hour shifts. Mr. Slater is the chief. There are any other place where trains can be shifted from one track to another."

"Then a train can be sent down track No. 1 or No. 2 at will?"

"Yes, sir."

"Who does this work?"

"All About Signals."

"The towerman at Matt Haven?"

"Has he any discretion?"

"No, he takes orders from the dispatcher."

"Who is the dispatcher?"

"There are three working on eight-hour shifts. Mr. Slater is the chief. There are any other place where trains can be shifted from one track to another."

"Then a train can be sent down track No. 1 or No. 2 at will?"

"Yes, sir."

"Who does this work?"

"All About Signals."

"The towerman at Matt Haven?"

"Has he any discretion?"

"No, he takes orders from the dispatcher."

"Who is the dispatcher?"

"There are three working on eight-hour shifts. Mr. Slater is the chief. There are any other place where trains can be shifted from one track to another."

"Then a train can be sent down track No. 1 or No. 2 at will?"

"Yes, sir."

"Who does this work?"

"All About Signals."

"The towerman at Matt Haven?"

"Has he any discretion?"

"No, he takes orders from the dispatcher."

"Who is the dispatcher?"

"There are three working on eight-hour shifts. Mr. Slater is the chief. There are any other place where trains can be shifted from one track to another."

"Then a train can be sent down track No. 1 or No. 2 at will?"

"Yes, sir."

"Who does this work?"

"All About Signals."

"The towerman at Matt Haven?"

"Has he any discretion?"

"No, he takes orders from the dispatcher."

"Who is the dispatcher?"

"There are three working on eight-hour shifts. Mr. Slater is the chief. There are any other place where trains can be shifted from one track to another."

"Then a train can be sent down track No. 1 or No. 2 at will?"

"Yes, sir."

"Who does this work?"

"All About Signals."

"The towerman at Matt Haven?"

"Has he any discretion?"

"No, he takes orders from the dispatcher."

"Who is the dispatcher?"

"There are three working on eight-hour shifts. Mr. Slater is the chief. There are any other place where trains can be shifted from one track to another."

"Then a train can be sent down track No. 1 or No. 2 at will?"

"Yes, sir."

"Who does this work?"

"All About Signals."

"The towerman at Matt Haven?"

"Has he any discretion?"

"No, he takes orders from the dispatcher."

"Who is the dispatcher?"

"There are three working on eight-hour shifts. Mr. Slater is the chief. There are any other place where trains can be shifted from one track to another."

"Then a train can be sent down track No. 1 or No. 2 at will?"

"Yes, sir."

"Who does this work?"

"All About Signals."

"The towerman at Matt Haven?"

"Has he any discretion?"

"No, he takes orders from the dispatcher."

"Who is the dispatcher?"

"There are three working on eight-hour shifts. Mr. Slater is the chief. There are any other place where trains can be shifted from one track to another."

"Then a train can be sent down track No. 1 or No. 2 at will?"

"Yes, sir."

"Who does this work?"

"All About Signals."

"The towerman at Matt Haven?"

"Has he any discretion?"

"No, he takes orders from the dispatcher."

"Who is the dispatcher?"

"There are three working on eight-hour shifts. Mr. Slater is the chief. There are any other place where trains can be shifted from one track to another."

"Then a train can be sent down track No. 1 or No. 2 at will?"

"Yes, sir."

"Who does this work?"

"All About Signals."

"The towerman at Matt Haven?"

"Has he any discretion?"

"No, he takes orders from the dispatcher."

"Who is the dispatcher?"

"There are three working on eight-hour shifts. Mr. Slater is the chief. There are any other place where trains can be shifted from one track to another."

"Then a train can be sent down track No. 1 or No. 2 at will?"

"Yes, sir."

"Who does this work?"

"All About Signals."

"The towerman at Matt Haven?"

"Has he any discretion?"

"No, he takes orders from the dispatcher."

"Who is the dispatcher?"

"There are three working on eight-hour shifts. Mr. Slater is the chief. There are any other place where trains can be shifted from one track to another."

"Then a train can be sent down track No. 1 or No. 2 at will?"

"Yes, sir."

"Who does this work?"

"All About Signals."

"The towerman at Matt Haven?"

"Has he any discretion?"

"No, he takes orders from the dispatcher."

"Who is the dispatcher?"

"There are three working on eight-hour shifts. Mr. Slater is the chief. There are any other place where trains can be shifted from one track to another."

"Then a train can be sent down track No. 1 or No. 2 at will?"

"Yes, sir."

"Who does this work?"

"All About Signals."

"The towerman at Matt Haven?"

"Has he any discretion?"

"No, he takes orders from the dispatcher."

"Who is the dispatcher?"

"There are three working on eight-hour shifts. Mr. Slater is the chief. There are any other place where trains can be shifted from one track to another."

"Then a train can be sent down track No. 1 or No. 2 at will?"

"Yes, sir."

"Who does this work?"

"All About Signals."

"The towerman at Matt Haven?"

"Has he any discretion?"

"No, he takes orders from the dispatcher."

"Who is the dispatcher?"

"There are three working on eight-hour shifts. Mr. Slater is the chief. There are any other place where trains can be shifted from one track to another."

"Then a train can be sent down track No. 1 or No. 2 at will?"

"Yes, sir."

"Who does this work?"

"All About Signals."

"The towerman at Matt Haven?"

"Has he any discretion?"

"No, he takes orders from the dispatcher."

"Who is the dispatcher?"

"There are three working on eight-hour shifts. Mr. Slater is the chief. There are any other place where trains can be shifted from one track to another."

"Then a train can be sent down track No. 1 or No. 2 at will?"

"Yes, sir."

"Who does this work?"

"All About Signals."

"The towerman at Matt Haven?"

"Has he any discretion?"

"No, he takes orders from the dispatcher."

"Who is the dispatcher?"

"There are three working on eight-hour shifts. Mr. Slater is the chief. There are any other place where trains can be shifted from one track to another."

"Then a train can be sent down track No. 1 or No. 2 at will?"

"Yes, sir."

"Who does this work?"

"All About Signals."

"The towerman at Matt Haven?"

"Has he any discretion?"

"No, he takes orders from the dispatcher."

"Who is the dispatcher?"

"There are three working on eight-hour shifts. Mr. Slater is the chief. There are any other place where trains can be shifted from one track to another."

"Then a train can be sent down track No. 1 or No. 2 at will?"

"Yes, sir."

"Who does this work?"

"All About Signals."

"The towerman at Matt Haven?"

"Has he any discretion?"

"No, he takes orders from the dispatcher."

"Who is the dispatcher?"

"There are three working on eight-hour shifts. Mr. Slater is the chief. There are any other place where trains can be shifted from one track to another."

"Then a train can be sent down track No. 1 or No. 2 at will?"

"Yes, sir."

"Who does this work?"

"All About Signals."

"The towerman at Matt Haven?"

"Has he any discretion?"

"No, he takes orders from the dispatcher."

"Who is the dispatcher?"

"There are three working on eight-hour shifts. Mr. Slater is the chief. There are any other place where trains can be shifted from one track to another."

"Then a train can be sent down track No. 1 or No. 2 at will?"

"Yes, sir."

"Who does this work?"

"All About Signals."

"The towerman at Matt Haven?"

"Has he any discretion?"

"No, he takes orders from the dispatcher."

"Who is the dispatcher?"

"There are three working on eight-hour shifts. Mr. Slater is the chief. There are any other place where trains can be shifted from one track to another."

"Then a train can be sent down track No. 1 or No. 2 at will?"

"Yes, sir."

"Who does this work?"

"All About Signals."

"The towerman at Matt Haven?"

"Has he any discretion?"

"No, he takes orders from the dispatcher."

"Who is the dispatcher?"

"There are three working on eight-hour shifts. Mr. Slater is the chief. There are any other place where trains can be shifted from one track to another."

"Then a train can be sent down track No. 1 or No. 2 at will?"

"Yes, sir."

"Who does this work?"

"All About Signals."

"The towerman at Matt Haven?"

"Has he any discretion?"

"No, he takes orders from the dispatcher."

"Who is the dispatcher?"

"There are three working on eight-hour shifts. Mr. Slater is the chief. There are any other place where trains can be shifted from one track to another."

"Then a train can be sent down track No. 1 or No. 2 at will?"

"Yes, sir."

"Who does this work?"

"All About Signals."

"The towerman at Matt Haven?"

"Has he any discretion?"

"No, he takes orders from the dispatcher."

"Who is the dispatcher?"

"There are three working on eight-hour shifts. Mr. Slater is the chief. There are any other place where trains can be shifted from one track to another."

"Then a train can be sent down track No. 1 or No. 2 at will?"

"Yes, sir."

"Who does this work?"

"All About Signals."

"The towerman at Matt Haven?"

"Has he any discretion?"

"No, he takes orders from the dispatcher."

"Who is the dispatcher?"

"There are three working on eight-hour shifts. Mr. Slater is the chief. There are any other place where trains can be shifted from one track to another."

"Then a train can be sent down track No. 1 or No. 2 at will?"

"Yes, sir."

"Who does this work?"

"All About Signals."

"The towerman at Matt Haven?"

"Has he any discretion?"

"No, he takes orders from the dispatcher."

"Who is the dispatcher?"

"There are three working on eight-hour shifts. Mr. Slater is the chief. There are any other place where trains can be shifted from one track to another."

"Then a train can be sent down track No. 1 or No. 2 at will?"

"Yes, sir."

"Who does this work?"

"All About Signals."

"The towerman at Matt Haven?"

"Has he any discretion?"

"No, he takes orders from the dispatcher."

"Who is the dispatcher?"

"There are three working on eight-hour shifts. Mr. Slater is the chief. There are any other place where trains can be shifted from one track to another."

"Then a train can be sent down track No. 1 or No. 2 at will?"

"Yes, sir."

"Who does this work?"

"All About Signals."

"The towerman at Matt Haven?"

"Has he any discretion?"

"No, he takes orders from the dispatcher."

"Who is the dispatcher?"

"There are three working on eight-hour shifts. Mr. Slater is the chief. There are any other place where trains can be shifted from one track to another."

"Then a train can be sent down track No. 1 or No. 2 at will?"

"Yes, sir."

"Who does this work?"

"All About Signals."

"The towerman at Matt Haven?"

"Has he any discretion?"

"No, he takes orders from the dispatcher."

"Who is the dispatcher?"

"There are three working on eight-hour shifts. Mr. Slater is the chief. There are any other place where trains can be shifted from one track to another."

"Then a train can be sent down track No. 1 or No. 2 at will?"

"Yes, sir."

"Who does this work?"

"All About Signals."

"The towerman at Matt Haven?"

"Has he any discretion?"

"No, he takes orders from the dispatcher."

"Who is the dispatcher?"

"There are three working on eight-hour shifts. Mr. Slater is the chief. There are any other place where trains can be shifted from one track to another."

"Then a train can be sent down track No. 1 or No. 2 at will?"

"Yes, sir."

"Who does this work?"

"All About Signals."

"The towerman at Matt Haven?"

"Has he any discretion?"

"No, he takes orders from the dispatcher."

"Who is the dispatcher?"

"There are three working on eight-hour shifts. Mr. Slater is the chief. There are any other place where trains can be shifted from one track to another."

"Then a train can be sent down track No. 1 or No. 2 at will?"

"Yes, sir."

"Who does this work?"

"All About Signals."

"The towerman at Matt Haven?"

"Has he any discretion?"

"No, he takes orders from the dispatcher."

"Who is the dispatcher?"

"There are three working on eight-hour shifts. Mr. Slater is the chief. There are any other place where trains can be shifted from one track to another."

"Then a train can be sent down track No. 1 or No. 2 at will?"

"Yes, sir."

"Who does this work?"

"All About Signals."

"The towerman at Matt Haven?"

"Has he any discretion?"

"No, he takes orders from the dispatcher."

"Who is the dispatcher?"

"There are three working on eight-hour shifts. Mr. Slater is the chief. There are any other place where trains can be shifted from one track to another."

"Then a train can be sent down track No. 1 or No. 2 at will?"

"Yes, sir."

"Who does this work?"

"All About Signals."

"The towerman at Matt Haven?"

"Has he any discretion?"

"No, he takes orders from the dispatcher."

"Who is the dispatcher?"

"There are three working on eight-hour shifts. Mr. Slater is the chief. There are any other place where trains can be shifted from one track to another."

"Then a train can be sent down track No. 1 or No. 2 at will?"

"Yes, sir."

"Who does this work?"

"All About Signals."

"The towerman at Matt Haven?"

"Has he any discretion?"

"No, he takes orders from the dispatcher."

"Who is the dispatcher?"

"There are three working on eight-hour shifts. Mr. Slater is the chief. There are any other place where trains can